

Transmuconjuration

by Dre Hill

your prayer has been heard the call across the universe asking—pleading for a change the seventh circle of conjuration is lit sigils become signs in your dreams runes mark the numbers of the angels the energy comes from within my soul sent to you with light and intention when it arrives it will be transformed transmuted—forged from the fires of your soul into the force of your choice a weapon to be wielded a shield for your deliverance when the witching hour begins think of me—the wellspring of magic puller of the strings of the universe answerer of your prayers
